

Opportunity to expand your learning and take part in a short research project this month.

Kuljeet will be running a couple of short sessions on Mondays, outside of studio time, working with a group of 5 students to help you develop your position on inclusive practices of design in the built environment.

Find out more and join today!